Contents

This manuscript and M.917 once formed part of a single codex. In the 1850's the codex was divided into at least two parts; some of the texts and their accompanying pictorial cycles are complete in each part while others are divided between the two or are lost. A reconstruction of the original sequence of texts and pictures and detailed descriptions and color reproductions of all the miniatures are given by John Plummer in the Hours of Catherine of Cleves (New York, 1966), and will not be repeated here. The numbers in brackets refer to the plate numbers in the facsimile. The dimensions of the miniatures given below do not include their frames.

A reconstruction of the original sequence of text and illustration and detailed descriptions and color reproductions of all the miniatures are given by John Plummer, The Hours of Catherine of Cleves, New York, 1966, and will not be repeated here. Only the large miniatures, along with the text they should illustrate, are listed here.
